My heart is broken, I'm very sad for her family. I love her family and know how much she meant to them. She was so caring and sensitive. Kim was one of my best friends, she loved her family, always taking care of them, whether they wanted it or not.?? she loved Jesus and church was important to her. I'm so glad I was with her in Trinity Church in NYC just a few weeks ago as we had communion together and after we lit candles together for her. I will cherish her friendship forever in my heart. My prayers are with Bill and the rest of her family. Please know I'm here if you need anything. Love Cheryl

It saddens me deeply too hear the news. Our hearts go out to the family she left behind. We had a lot of great memories years ago, that I will always cherish and enjoy. I know she was a very giving person and she will be missed dearly. I pray for the family, that they grow strong and keep her memory alive in the years too come. May God bless her and watch over her always. I shall never forget her and the joy she brought o my world...MPM
