How do you put down a lifetime of Memories in just a few sentences? My dearest Kelly, we were inseparable during junior high and high school. We even took some amazing road trips after high school and I will never forget all the fun we had together. I love you and I will see you again someday.

Kelly's influence in my life goes beyond measure. From being there to encourage and support me in my childhood, to being a good friend throughout adulthood. Without knowing the impact she would have, she most definitely helped to set me on the path to where I am today. In large part due to her influence, I am doing what I love and working to spread the impact she had on me to those I am fortunate to empower ... and for that I will be forever grateful.
