Shari, I will miss you so much dear friend! No one loved their family and friends more than you. Any time someone needed something you were always there to help. We spent countless hours on the phone trying to resolve world problems.... although not much changed we sure tried. I always loved that you were Carl's Shari and I was Stan's Sheree at family functions. I think us loving Henderson brothers caused us to have a special bond. Rest in Peace Shari! I have a piece of you in my heart forever!

I never wanted to say goodbye, and no matter when the time came it would have be to soon. I will always miss the sound of your voice, the embrace of your hugs, your sage advice (whether I wanted it or not), and all opportunities we no longer have. I know you are in peace and with family who went before you, but I am selfish enough to wish you were healed and still with us. No matter how old I get, there will always be a piece of me missing with you gone. You always have been and will always be a part of me. I will miss you everyday of my life and cherish every memory I have. I love you Mom!!

To know that you are at peace,with a perfect body,no pain,no suffering,no fear,is such a comfort to me.Your chains are gone,you've been set free! I will treasure every moment we have spent together,and carry with me,the memories.If I could have healed you and kept you here,I would have gladly done so,yet I know you are with mom now,the one you have so deeply missed and longed for! I love you and keep you in my heart,always.....Stay Spicy,sister!!!!
