I have 36 years of wonderful memories, this woman is and was what every mother should hope to be to their children. She was amazingly giving, loving, thoughtful, kind and always put me (her only child) and everyone else's needs before her own. She would sit for hours reading scriptures and other various self help books to try and give struggling people she cared for feel better about themselves and have hope and positivity in their lives. When I say "people" I mean everyone from all of her team members at Direct tv to random people she came across throughout her day. She is the most caring, loving, special and most of all unique heart I have ever known and I am beyond blessed, better yet privileged to say that woman, that Angel, was mine. I love you momma and until we meet again I will do everything I can to be as much like you as possible. I will see you again in Heaven and just between you and I.....butterflies. Hugs, kisses and every ounce of my love, your forever thankful daughter, Crys. ❤️
