Working with Diane at ACE is a memory that I will not soon forget. She cared for the clients as if they were her very own children and most would stop by her office (the office with stacks of documents on the floor and 500 sticky notes attached to her computer) just to say hello when they came in for counseling. Diane always acted happy to see anyone that would stop by her office. You could find Diane or "Nanny" as I always called her, working way past midnight almost everyday. I would dare say she was not a morning person! But to me, Nanny was like a second mom, only next to her daughter, Stacy. I always felt loved by her and often sat to talk with her late at night in the office or playing the card game "hand and foot" at Stacy and Boudi's house. She became a grandmother to my children when they had none to call their own. I am lucky to have known Diane and I will surely miss her. ~Kelley Clark~
