As long as I've known Mrs. Bejcek (nearly 40 years), I'm somewhat embarrassed to admit that I never knew her first name, until this morning. I've always known Billy's dad's name... From what I recall, Mrs. Bejcek was never the type of mom who demanded respect. Respect was freely given to her. She loved Billy's friends, of which I am proud to be one. Mrs. B never let us go hungry, when we visited their home. She always made sure Billy had a five gallon tin can full of homemade cookies, to share, when he returned to our University Campus, from a weekend visit. Billy's room was one of the more popular rooms in the men's dorm, which goes without saying.

Her Song of Love
My heart is aching missing her so much
The garden whispers a tender song of love
As birds fly by wondering if she'll ever return.
Her familiar cushioned chair, unmovable, empty
I, sitting nearby, falling softly in a daydream
-But isn't true my darling, That over the years our love rooted well,
That we passed it over the children we were blessed to raise. And the good Lord brought us others,
We loved on them too. We shared our faith in practical form. And darling, Today please remember that tears are as good as a good laugh and laughter we gave each other and good silly times!
-And hugs I would give you And you gave me smiles
-I love you-
were many While we shared a snack, of popcorn and Kool-Aid of memories afar
And the room, our room Was always filled with little ones, who needed some help and in my mind there's always a task!
And I wished I could run on my skates all the way down the road. .. Now, I can. How, my darling, wish you could see the way I found my strength, all the way on heaven roads.
While down on earth you'll shed some tears, While you remember me, I'll whisper to your heart in the still of the night, Hush, hush
I have also a good laugh!

I grew up 3 houses down from Mrs. Bejcek and know not a sweeter, kinder, loving, more generous lady. One thing that always comes to mind and it would always come up when we talked or I would tell people about (Wanda) For Halloween she would make the best Popcorn Balls and save me and my brothers and sister one. Mrs Bejcek you are one in 10 million we love you and will miss you but know you are with God. (save me a popcorn ball ok.) Terry. W. Bradley

I knew I loved Mrs B. even before we met. Whenever Billy would go home from OBU for a weekend, he would return with at least one and sometimes three 5 gallon containers of homemade cookies. Evidently, Mrs. B would cook sheets of cookies all weekend for Billy to bring back to OBU. Anxiously, a dozen or so of Billy's buddies would wait for his return. Quickly the 5 gallon containers would be empty with only a scattering of crumbs remaining. Mrs. B made the cookies for all of Billy's friends. She loved her family, lived a wonderful life and I'm thankful for my lifelong friendship with her son Billy. She was truly a giver.

Billy and I graduated from OBU together. My first job out of college was in Tulsa, and I contacted Billy to see if I could stay with him and his family for a few days while I found a place to live. Eight months later I finally moved out. If I had a second last name, it would be Bejcek. Mrs. B was one of the most genuine, hospitable people I have ever known. You leave a rich legacy in so many of our lives by your example of selfless giving and unconditional, unpretentious acceptance. Truly a life well lived. Jamie Stephenson
