On September 17, 2012 we lost a beloved mother, grandmother, and friend. Our hearts acknowledge her passing, but the memories of her that are forever etched in our minds will sustain us in the days to come. Sue Liptrap's life will serve as a template of how we should live our lives. She served God, and all who crossed her path. Generosity, kindness, and determination are but a few words that describe her character. Goodbye is often the cruelest of all words. Instead, we chose to say "Mom, grandma, beloved friend, we will see you again in a little while".

Mom, I love you more than words can say. You were always there for me. You never judged me or questioned my decisions. You always gave advice when I asked with great wisdom. You were everything everyone wants in a mother. Though your time here on earth was short, you lived life to the fullest and touched the hearts to all who knew you. I only hope I am half the mother that you were. This is not goodbye, it's "See you later". Love, Your Little Monkey

Sue was/is my mom. I have loved her since I was a baby. She was so accepting and patient with me. She was a large part of who I am now. I pray comfort for our souls, for God knows how much we have lost. I look forward to seeing her again.
