Denise, I am so very happy we got to see each other not so long ago. However, so sad that I was not able to come see you again. Thanks for communicating through facebook when you could. It did help reconnect and reconfirm our love for family. Like I told you when I hugged you for the last time, Walk tall and hold your head high. The past is your past and you did the best you could at the time. Do not walk in shame for the past, keep your head high to see the future. Love you cuz!!!

Neicie, I will miss you so much. I was hoping to see you this October when I'm planning a trip to see my sister. It was good that we found you when Anita and I were in Tulsa last September 2010. You were making such good progress and getting yourself back together into the beautiful young woman you have always been in my eyes. Then when I returned to Tulsa in November and my brother-in-law went to be with His Lord, I again got to see the improvement you were making. To hear you speak of your family and the love I could hear from you was assuring that you were happy at last. Billie Dawn was so happy to have the chance to be with you again. Life is so short. Until we meet again I'll hold you dear to my heart. Be blessed in His presence. Aunt Joan

My Dearest, We had such fun as kids, we played with such careless abandon. Whenever I could I was at your house. It is so unfortunate that our lives (grown up) had taken us so many miles and so far apart. We went for years without a word, however, I would wander through my mind and find us as we were. Frick N Frack or Ding N Dong, lol, as uncle Art would say, you were the bestest cousin I could have asked for. I often remember the story that mom told me of how you were supposed to be born on my birthday and I was supposed to be born on yours, why was that I suppose? I have missed you for years, and will til I take my last breath. I feel sorrow for your struggles and challenges that you and I faced. I am proud that you are my cousin, my friend. I am so blessed that we reunited last year. You looked good, happy and making your way back into your life. I am glad we hugged and talked, you told me of your children, such a proud mom you are. So much love you have and so lucky that I felt some of it. May your travels be kind and deserving. You will always be in my heart Love.
