Dear Grandpa, Your death was so sudden and on one of the worst days of September 11th, that day in itself was a day of loss for many people. I remember that day when I found out by other family members, I was angry and upset. Mom was in a different country at the time and couldn't make it back here for all the arrangements for your funeral was pretty hard for my Aunt I think, she was left with a lot of troubles... My biggest regret was that I didn't come over and see you or grandma (when she was still alive) enough as I did when I was younger though I'm sure you don't blame me. I've visited yours and grandma's grave though, it's kind of weird typing this out on a site where you won't be able to read it but maybe it will give me a sense of peace? I don't know. I would feel kind of weird talking at your graves so I just stand there silently, I'm sure that's what most people who don't talk to the dead do at the cemetery. I hope you and grandma have found peace in the afterlife, if there is one and after I'm gone I can meet back up with you and all the other family members. Love, Brittany
