Eddie was my stepfather. He was a good, sweet man. He and my mother met on match.com at 72 and 79 in 2011. He was married to his first wife, Norma, for 48 years and mom was married to my dad for 55 years. They honored each other's late spouses every day by speaking of them freely and fondly and displaying their pictures in their home. This is a testament to marriage and selfless love. It also made a late in life marriage and two families accept their union easily. Eddie was selfless. He took care of so many people. Most of all he took great care of my mother. He made her life so much better. He was loving, patient and very kind. I will forever be grateful to Eddie. He was family even though it was for a short time. I will miss him.

Lee Mayberry posted:

My sincerest condolences to the Addington family. Mr. Addington was truly loved by the Mayberry family. I will hold close the memories we shared on our fishing trips, talking basketball, or simply sitting around talking about life. My family and I have you in our thoughts and prayers.
