I worked with John for my first 8 years at Cobb. He taught me a tremendous amount about so many things. He genuinely cared about his team and always found ways to try to keep them safe and in good health. I can think of 3 innovations that John brought to the team that were focused on keeping our team members safe. If I was thinking about how to do something new or if we needed a tool, or the ability to do something different, I would talk with John and he came through time and again. After he met Julianne I could see that he was truly happy. He was always smiling, and warm and I always left him feeling good about where he was in life. May God's grace shine on you my friend.
