Russell C. Human was born February 16th, 1935, to Ernest Human and Ina Mae (Monroe) in Stillwater, OK. He graduated from Stillwater High School and attended Southern Nazarene University. He was a missionary to Swaziland, Africa and pastored churches in Kansas, Missouri, California, and Oklahoma. He was a district superintendent in Minnesota and Oklahoma. He also served on the boards of two Nazarene Universities, and the denomination's general advisory board. Russell is survived by Ruth, his devoted wife of 66 years, daughter Cathy Jennings, son-in-law Chris Jennings, and was preceded in death by daughter Cindy Bryant. He has a surviving brother, Wayne Human (Pam) and was preceded in death by a sister, Ruth Ann Flowers. His grandchildren are Emily Pearson (Gavin), Caroline Jennings, William Jennings and Sophie Jennings and a great-grandson William Pearson, and many beloved nieces and nephews. Russell's life was characterized by sacrifice. He demonstrated Christ's love by giving himself fully to those he pastored, his extended family, and his wife, children, and grandchildren.

I have known Russell most of my life, growing up in Stillwater, and always admired his Godly example. I shall never forget the day he gave himself wholly to the Lord as his personal Savior.--Terry D. Going

My sympathies to Ruth and all the family. Dr. Human made a life-long impact on me. I was the second pastor he called to join the Minnesota District team of pastors after he became the District Superintendent there. He poured himself into me, helping me mature as a pastor and demonstrating how to love people. I treasure the memories of my "Minnesota days". I am sorry I cannot be at his Memorial Service. I am in southwest Florida visiting two of my children and their families. My life was blessed because of the Humans' influence.
