Amy fought a hard battle with cancer in Oct. 2000, which went into remission but she lived for 22 years with all of the health issues that was created by the cancer and strokes. Amy pushed forward in this battle with the most Courage, one could ever have in life. She always faced each day with Joy in her heart and a smile on her face along with the most beautiful Peace in knowing she would spend eternity in heaven and on the worst of times She would always give her famous finger point to her heart then to heaven, Amy would say "Oh Wow"! And no matter what always says "Praise God".

Amy then enlisted in the US Army on Oct. 17, 1989-March, 2000, where she was activated to serve multiple times. Amy received The Army Commendation Medal and The Soldier of the Year Award.

Amy loved the Aphasia Choir, going to church, visiting with friends, She loved long walks, reading, singing and listening to music, watching her favorite TV shows, taking friends to climb on top of Edison High School to see the view, or shooting a gun and doing something fun around the ranch, but most of all she liked to laugh and Praise God.

Amy is preceded in death by her Dad and Grandparents.

I will miss her infectious smile, her enthusiastic singing, and her sense of humor...which she definitely needed, being married to Jeff. Amy had such determination and courage that I wish I had more of. I think of her anytime I hear someone say "Oh wow!" You're in my prayers, Jeff.

Although I didn't know Amy in her earlier years, I can imagine she was a force in action. In our times together I saw Amy give Jeff a run for his money with her facial expressions and words. Seeing that, along with hearing about your canoe trips and other activities, make me wish I had met her years ago. Jeff, I'm sure you have many happy memories of your adventures with Amy, and I hope they bring joy to your heart, even in these very hard times.
