We are all deeply saddened by the loss of Mike. Our family history goes back to the time our fathers, Robert and Bill, joined the Army and became friends. We have been like family since then. Mike and I were both born shortly after they both got out of the Army. Our families spent time together nearly every summer for all the years to follow. We have been blessed with many memories and good times over the years, and fallen prey to the many pranks of Mike and his dad. Love you all and sending prayers for the Jarrett families,Pam
