He was such a quiet kid. I remember the first time he actually talked to me. He and Tori had dated for years, lived together for years and it was all he could do to muster up a one word response to be polite. After they broke up, he opened the floodgates, he talked to me and said more words than he said the entire time they were together. He went on and on about his concerns for her, how much he loved her and what he hoped he could do to help her. He was a kind soul. I am praying for all of his family and loved ones. I can't even imagine what you're going through.
