Gary and I spent every New Years eve with Marty and Dick for years. We played pitch and nibbled all evening long. We still miss them both. Marty was my "go to" for all things medical. It was like having a nurse on call. We was a true friend in every way. Gail Reed

Marilyn and I shared an interest in fiber work of all kinds. At one time, I worked with another mutual friend, Nancy, who sold hand-dyed fiber for spinning. We were at a conference, and Marilyn came into our booth and exclaimed how much she liked a wonderful pair of handspun, handknit socks we had on display. I laughed, thinking she was kidding around, and she looked confused. Then I pointed out that those were HER socks, and we all had a good laugh. She was dedicated to her craft and I also remember how impressed her doctor was with her recovery after knee surgery, because of how much she exercised it before surgery treadling her spinning wheel. Marilyn was always a lot of fun and she is missed!! won't be able to attend her celebration of life, but know that I will be thinking of her and all her family on that day!Rosemary Carlson
