Martey Osabu Quaye

JAN 11, 1943 - NOV 13, 2024

It is with heavy hearts and deep gratitude that we remember the life of Mr. Macdonald Nii Martey Osabu Quaye, a man whose journey was marked by resilience, dedication, and an unwavering love for family and community.

Born on January 11, 1943, in Accra, Ghana to the late Paul Osabu Quaye and Madame Beatrice Ameley Tackie, he was destined to make a significant mark in the world. He grew up in Atupai and his upbringing was one of strength, shaped by the love and legacy of his parents, including his mother, the granddaughter of the esteemed Ga King, King Tackie Tawiah the first.

From a young age, he displayed an extraordinary sense of respect, discipline, and intelligence that set him apart from his peers. His academic journey was one of triumph, from his early education at Jamestown Government Primary School to his secondary studies at Presbyterian Boys' Secondary School in Odumase Krobo, and later, sixth form at Ghana National College in Cape Coast. He was not only a student of great potential but a leader who served as Secretary of the Accra Students' Union, earning the respect of all who knew him. Martey then went on to Legon University to begin his journey in higher education. In August of 1966, he gained a scholarship to continue his education in Canada to study at the University of Manitoba, in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

It was in this same pivotal year of 1966 that Martey met his beloved Magdalene Brown, at Wesley Grammar Secondary School where he taught General Science for a short period of time before leaving to Canada. Meeting Magdalene ignited a love in Martey that he would later realize would leave an indelible mark on his life. Martey earned a Bachelor of Science degree with honors in Zoology and completed a MSC in Zoology in 1972. Martey then attended Kent State University in Ohio, where he pursued his PhD. However, Martey's passions ultimately lead him in another direction.

After his time in Canada, Martey returned to Ghana and the love that was sparked between him and Magdalene in 1966 was rekindled. Martey and Magdalene married and the bond between them grew into a lifelong partnership for over 50 years. They were blessed with a beautiful daughter, Stacie and 2 wonderful grandchildren Sloane and Trinity, whom he loved dearly. Martey was more than just a scholar, leader, and professional—he was a loving son, brother, and friend. He faced life’s challenges with unwavering strength, especially the painful loss of his mother at the tender age of thirteen. Yet, it was this very adversity that helped shape him into the compassionate and resilient man we came to know.

In addition to his academic and personal achievements, Martey was also a successful businessman. Together with his loving wife he owned and operated the SQ Home Care and SQ Residential Services, Inc and A-Vow Hospice, Inc. His leadership and vision were integral to the operations of the companies, and his dedication to excellence was evident in all he did.

Martey truly enjoyed traveling with his beloved wife, Magdalene. Together, they enjoyed seeing the world - whether on a cruise or traveling directly to places like Greece, Tanzania, Germany, Hawaii, Canada, London, Cuba and so many other places. But there’s nowhere else in the world that Martey enjoyed visiting more than his home in Ghana.

As we bid farewell to this remarkable man, we do so with hearts full of gratitude for the lessons he imparted, the love he gave, and the legacy he leaves behind. His memory will live on in all the lives he touched, both personally and professionally.

Rest in peace, Martey Osabu Quaye. Your journey on earth may have ended, but your spirit remains eternal in the hearts of those who loved you.

From your Magdalena:

You would always say “I love you,” and I would always respond, “I love you more.” The thought of you will never leave my mind nor my heart. You are in my heart and will remain there forever. I love you, Mac. Rest well my love... till we meet again. Yours truly, Magdalene.

A public visitation will be held from 3:00 PM to 7:00 PM, on Friday, December 6, 2024, at Floral Haven Funeral Home's Rose Mausoleum Chapel, located at 6500 S 129th E Ave, Broken Arrow, OK 74012.

A Tribute to McDonald Nii Martey Osabu-QuayeAs you embark on your eternal journey today, may the gates of heaven open wide to welcome you into Abraham's bosom.I fondly recall your passionate discussions about the timeless beauty of all-male choirs, a tradition you cherished deeply. You often expressed your sentiments about the changing landscape of church music, particularly the shift towards mixed choirs. Though your perspective was unique, your love for music and the sacred space of the cathedral will forever be remembered.Your presence at my ordination into the priesthood and your thoughtful gift of the book "Episcopalians" is a testament to your unwavering love for the Anglican Church and its community. Your support and encouragement were instrumental in my journey of faith.Rest in peace, dear uncle. Your memory will live on in the hearts of those who knew and loved you.

I had the absolute pleasure of meeting Martey when I was 18yrs old. He was more like a second father too me. Thru the years we developed a sincere relationship that lasted until he transitioned to a better place. Although the selfishness in me HATES that he's gone, I'm very thankful that he is no longer suffering. I do and ALWAYS will love Martey and the Quaye family for their love and support throughout my life. Rest Well Martey. You will forever be LOVED and MISSED ❤️

I remember the day I met Martey I was scared of him lol. He never really spoke to me until 2017 but since 2017 he has been a mentor a friend and a father like figure in my life he has calmed me, guided me, encouraged me, and pushed me to be better at what I do and to be a better person. Martey Will forever hold a special place in my heart and his memory will live on in my head forever as I promised him as he took his final breaths I will stand by his family And be here for any and everything that they need. I love you, Martey and I hope you rest well in heaven. I also hope you've already gotten to meet my mother who I know is very proud that you were a very big part of my life to Magdalene Stacey, Paul and the girls you're stuck with me forever we are family.

We always reminisce about our school days and Winnipeg days. I had an apprehension when he didn't respond to my messages after three weeks. Martey and I had fun. We always termed our conversations "gossip". He would call me and start, hey Ato (pope) gossip, gossip, and we start laughing. I will really miss him. I don't have anyone to "gossip" with anymore!! I still haven't come to terms with the news of your demise, Uncle Mac. You looked hale and hearty in all your visits to Ghana and I never for once imagined I'd have to share a memory of you in this manner so soon. My memories of Unco Martey dates to my early childhood when he was literally the only relative we had abroad. We were always excited at the news of your visits because we were assured of our usual dose of candies. The best part was going to see you off at the airport. It was our only chance of seeing airplanes up close and the thought of our uncle in one was always exciting. We would stand and wait till the plane takes off and we'd wave and wave for several minutes 😊. My years as a Ghanaian student in France were tough but as soon as Unco Martey was informed of my financial difficulties, he reached out and sent me help. I was always overjoyed whenever I received the phone call with details of my Western Union Transfers! How can I leave out the immense support you offered during those trying times when my now deceased mum was sick. You constantly reached out to offer support. I was really going through it but your phone calls provided the emotional support I needed. I'll miss you constantly checking up on me Unco Mac. I still recall our conversation the last time you were in Ghana. We spoke for nearly 45mins and using your usual tactics, got me out of my shell and made sure to make me laugh and laugh! Edem and I are grateful, for the friendship, for the jokes, for always making us laugh. He has lots of cases lined up for you, by the way! Thanks for being that voice of reason in the family. We love you dearly and ask that our good Lord will find a special place for you to have a well deserved peaceful rest. Till we meet again, Unco Mac! 🙏 Love, Opabebe.

To God be the Glory, Great things He has done for us. This life is not easy when we had lost our precious family. We can't do anything without him because he continue to support us PRN. We wish everyone a Peaceful precious days with Hope and Faith, Love and Prayers for blessed days ahead. May the Almighty Father continue to Bless everyone abundantly.
