“ I still can't believe you are gone. I met Dave when I started at Dillard's in 2005. For 6 years he helped me with anything I needed and was my best friend. His corny jokes and his love of all things Razerbacks made for an interesting time. Dave would give you the shirt off his back if you needed it and he was there for me during my darkest hour. The love he had for his girls was endless. Heaven gained an angel Dave and you will be in our thoughts. Go Hogs!!

“ I still cannot believe Dave is gone. I met him at Dillard's 17 yrs ago. He came and sat in my area. He was going to be my friend. And he did and was like a little brother. He loved his friends with all his being. And his girls were his life. He was crazy Dave, Arkansas Dave. Most of all he was loved, I keep checking his fb. Thinking it is just not real. RIP Dave Go Hogs

“ Dave was a very special person in my life because of his loving and caring spirit that brought joy and laughter wherever he went. When you were down, he cared, listened and lifted you out of it if at all possible. His compassionate care for his Aunt was a prime example of just who Dave Reddick was as a person. We enjoyed good and bad times together while Dave always trying to make the difference. His passion for friends and family was only exceeded by his love for the Razorbacks. Go Hogs and go Dave, you both rock! Soooiee!

“ Ha ha never have been good with phones or computers. This is the rest of my post... dad i cant bring you back, i cant hear your voice, i cant see you and give you a hug (the ones you squeezed so hard on, you think your chest would burst), no more stories, no more pictures. You embarrassed me so bad when i was a kid, you were so loud and always making silly jokes, now ill never hear them or your laugh again. No more yelling at the tv for arkansas to pull their heads outta their butts during a game. I do have all these memories and i am very thankful for them. We still have one more trip to Arkansas together. Kama, melissa, kim jacobs and i will take you to arkansas just like you always wanted. All the kids will hear stories about you, probably more than they want to, they will know you, i promise. Now you are with Momo, that eases my mind some. You have all the things you need and no stress, no pain, just peace and bliss. I love you daddy so much,...

“ These are a few pictures of my dad, you will be missed alot. You were taken too soon, without even a good bye, its unfair, sucks and sucks really bad. My heart is heavy and mind hasnt stopped racing, i wish i could fix this, make it all go away. This time i cant fix it, im so used to making things better or looking at a positive outcome down the road

“ I'm so very sorry for your loss, Kids....He was the brightest lightbulb in the room, and I'll miss him! For me to have known him 40+ years seems unreal, but it's true. I know I'll never forget him like he never forgot my sister, Dee Hefley. Rock on, Dave!!! See you on the other side, and I love you, man

“ I met Dave at walmart. My daughter used to work there. He was a sweetheart of a guy and I will miss talking to him. I was talking to him the last time when a guy passed by and said hi to him and they conversed for a sec when the guy walked off Dave told me that that was Dwight Twilley. That is when I realized that there was alot more to Dave than alot of people knew. Prayers for his family and friends.
