

Deborah Ann Keller

October 1, 1954 - August 19, 2014

Deborah Ann Keller, age 59, passed away on Tuesday, August 19, 2014 in Broken Arrow, Oklahoma. Deborah was born on October 1, 1954 in Spartanburg, South Carolina to her parents, Ollice and JoAnn Mitchell. She was the first child with two other siblings. Deborah received her general education at Broken Arrow High School before attending The University of Oklahoma and Tulsa University. After five years of hard, diligent studying, she received her Bachelors of Science in Nursing. Deborah was preceded in death by her daughter, Amy Oliver. Deborah is survived by her mother JoAnn Mitchell, her daughter Claire Keller, her three sons Pat Oliver, Shane Oliver and Cody Oliver, her two daughter-in-laws Amanda Oliver and Maleah Oliver, her granddaughter Ashtyn Oliver, her grandson Grady Oliver, and her soon to be grand baby. Funeral services are to be held at 10:00 AM, Saturday, August 23, 2014 at Church of Christ of Broken Arrow, Oklahoma.

Comments

---

“ I just met Deborah last week as her homehealth RN and was not only "touched" by her pleasant nature, but by her confidence in her Lord Jesus. Medically Deborah has been thru many trials, but it didn't shake her faith....and she told me she was ready to meet her Lord, her only worry being her children and families—how they would handle her passing. But Deborah KNEW her God would comfort and care for them as God had comforted her and saw her thru all her cancer ordeals. "HE was my hope" She told me she had some friends that asked her "why would God do something like this to you?"...and Deborah retorted "God hasn't done this to me....it's Satan in this worldly life that does such things to shake our faith". Oh that I may have such a strong faith in the face of such trials!! I only had 2 nursing visits with Deborah Keller and despite my desire to see her more to further bask in her faith... I'm comforted that she is with our loving God in heaven feeling no pain and having heard "welcome home my faithful child". I pray that I touched her in some small way....albeit reassurance or a comfort with praising her for her faith, as Deborah sure left a wonderful Christian mark with me. I had NO knowledge that she was church of Christ, but finding that out sure doesn't surprise me....we were sisters in Christ as I attend Park Plaza church of Christ!!! With respect to Deborah and sympathy to her family, Carol Turner, RN St Francis Homehealth

Carol Turner,RN - August 21, 2014 at 10:09 AM

---

“ Prayin fer all ya'll. I never met her face to face but spoke with her on the phone and thru facebook. A very special Waryer Princess, she is.

Melody Summers - August 20, 2014 at 05:25 PM