

Kim Carol Dilbeck

January 26, 1953 - April 26, 2017

Kim Carol Kimes was born January 26, 1953 to Everett Carl Kimes and Mary Magdalene Terry Kimes in Pawhuska, Oklahoma. She departed this life April 26, 2017 at the age of 64 years and 3 months at her home in Skiatook, Oklahoma. Kim was born and raised in Pawhuska. She attended Pawhuska Public Schools. On May 19, 1968 she married John Thomas Hull (Tommy) in Pawhuska, Oklahoma. They moved to Michigan where Tommy worked on a pipeline as a welder until the death of her father (Everett) which subsequently brought them back to Oklahoma where they would settle and start a family. On April 28, 1971 they welcomed their first child, a son, John Thomas Hull II (JohnT.) in Pawhuska Hospital. On September 1, 1974 they welcomed their second child, a daughter, Michelle Mary Hull in Bartlesville Oklahoma. Tommy and Kim started Tom's Welding Service in 1971. Kim stayed busy working alongside Linda in the family business while raising a family. She always made time to make Saturday night trips to the drive-in and Murphy's with Sherry and Larry. In 1978 she and Tommy opened Hull Oil Company which is when life really got busy. Over the years Kim became a self-taught expert in all things related to accounting and oil field sales and service. Her stature was small, but her spunky personality was a perfect fit for working with oilfield hands. Some of her best friends were made during these years. On December 29, 1992 she married Randy Dilbeck in Tulsa, Oklahoma. In 1994 she opened KARDS in Bartlesville, Oklahoma. KARDS was a gift shop and stood for Kim and Randy Dilbeck's. They lived in various cities in Oklahoma and Colorado over the next two decades. Kim had an adventurous spirit and love of travel so she and Randy set out to see the world. Whether it was driving across the USA on the back of a motorcycle, snorkeling in Hawaii, sailing, or swimming in the Mediterranean Sea near Malta, she had a zest for life and enjoyed her adventures with Randy. In the spirit of supporting family businesses, Kim helped her son, JohnT., in the car business. She also helped her son-in-law launch his computer consulting firm in 2004. Kim worked with Hank in the IT industry until she retired in December 2015. Kim's hobbies included painting, flower gardening, swimming, traveling, and spending time with her grandkids which was her favorite of all. Kim is survived by a large and loving family who will miss her feisty spirit but will surely perpetuate her legacy and sense of adventure. She is survived by Randy Louis Dilbeck her husband of 24 years of the Skiatook home; son JohnT. Hull and wife

“ This friend and I go back to junior high age and we use to laugh at her Dad Everett driving his Barracuda to take us places and she would sit by him. It was funny and he had a good sense of humor because he loved his little girl dearly. Kim was fun and we did a lot of things together back then but she shocked me out of my mind when she told me one evening that she and Tommy Hull were getting married — I said WHAT??? You are too young !!!!! But her parents let her and that was that. She was the best of mothers to her kids but she had a good one too. Mary Kimes was wonderful and funny also. Sad she's gone so young but she left her mark. My sympathies to her husband Randy, kids and grandkids. I bet she was a fun fun grandma. Alma and James Hager

“ Kim and I were friends since grade school. I remember the times that we walked to the Kihekah Theater and watched movies, the slumber parties, many good times. We had one last slumber party in 1991, I think, for us grown up girls at Susan Frew Lewis's house in Bartlesville. Susan, Kim, Susan Enyart Ray, myself, maybe Laura Choice Crawford, maybe a few more, had a good time listening to the music of the 60's, laughing and remembering when, went to the movies, we almost stayed up all night! Prayers and love for all of Kim's loving family, she was so special! Marsha Cochran Wamego.
