Marian G. Tally, although a recent resident of Broken Arrow, Oklahoma, lived many years in Sapulpa, Oklahoma. She was preceded in death by her husband, LeRoy Tally and grandchild, Sara Fransico. Marian was a sprightly 91 year old who loved being active and enjoyed working as a shoe salesperson for several years in Tulsa, and then for Kentucky Fried Chicken in Sapulpa, Ok. where she retired last year after 25 years. She very much enjoyed her job there where she greeted customers and made many friends along the way. Marian is survived by her four children, Tommy Tally of Tulsa, Ok., Marvetta McNeel, Westport, Ok., Caron Stewart, Crescent, Ok., and Kimberly Bartlett of Joplin, Mo. In addition to her children, Marian is survived by nine grandchildren, twenty great-grandchildren and five great-great grandchildren. There will not be a funeral service. There will be a private memorial/celebration service for family and friends.

“ I loved Marion, she was like a Mother to me. I lived next door to her for at least 15 years, I spent a lot of time with her, we had a lot of dinners together, Marion could put a meal together with a little of this and little of that. When she started slowing down, I would tease her about being "speeding Gonzales" cause she would start out like she was going to a race. I'd have to remind her to slow down. I could talk to her about anything and she could do the same with me. I will always have a special place in my heart for Marion. I pray that Marion will rest in peace and I will always remember her and love her. I pray for her family that the Lord will give you comfort during this time and to treasure all the memories you have in your heart for her. Love to all of you,
