“ I met Ned when I was just a little girl back in North Dakota! He was with a combing company that brought him to the Midwest. We took Ned into our home while he was in our next of the woods! He became like a big brother to my sister and I. During combining season he would return to our home. After that part of his life was over we still kept in contact with phone calls and letters. Life seemed to march on and we lost contact with each other. I finally took a chance and found our dear friend on facebook! He had been looking for us as well. I was so excited to have found him and know he felt the same. My heart is broken that after finally finding him that I had to lose him so quickly! I am bawling like a baby watching the photos on my dear Ned! It gives me peace of mind to see what a lovely family he has! I was so blessed to have had your dad in my life! My heart aches for you!

“ Ned was just the best to work with and I will miss his smile and raspy greeting to me each day. We lost a good one when he left us, but I know that he's laughing and joking with those who went before and that he is putting a smile on their faces. RIP NedsieAnn Martin
