“ Uncle Robert was one of my favorite uncles. He had a hand in help raising me. I remember he always helped me with my math homework and helped me get into Cosmetology school. We also rode to vo-tech every morning together. Uncle Robert was always a prankster. Whenever I lived with him and Aunt Hazel, he would always steal the second remote to the tv and change the channel while I was watching tv. I always wondered how and why the tv would do that everytime I watched it. Just about two years ago, he finally revealed that it was him the whollleeeeeee time, hiding and changing the channels. We all had a good laugh! I love you Uncle! Whitney
