

Dr. Sanjay Kapoor

June 14, 1973 - June 3, 2020

Dr. Sanjay Kapoor, 47, of Broken Arrow, Oklahoma passed from this life on Wednesday, June 3, 2020 at his residence. He was born June 14, 1973 in India to his parents, Jagdish Kapoor and Vijay Anand Kapoor. He married the love of his life, Sonal Kapoor on June 10, 2006 in Chicago, Illinois and they have shared over 14 years together.

He graduated from Grant Medical College in Mumbai. He moved to the USA to be with his parents. He completed his specialty training in Chicago.

Despite being a physician, he was able to take time off to volunteer and take care of his parents whenever they needed him.

He went every winter to work as a senior doctor in Dara, India to serve the needy. He always said that he wanted to finish his "Karma" on this earth soon enough and rise above the cycles of life. His faith in Radhasoami religion gave him strength and courage to do what he wanted and beat the norms of life.

Everybody who met him felt the warmth of his blissful soul. Sanjay and his wife Sonal gave, selflessly their time, money, and energy to help hundreds of people financially and spiritually.

God took him early from this earth on June 3rd, 2020.

He will be remembered for his philanthropy, zest for life, and a servant heart. We believe that the earth has been made a better place because of him.

Sanjay is survived by his loving wife, Sonal Kapoor; his parents, Jagdish and Vijay Kapoor; his sister, Benu Dhawan and husband Sanjay; two nephews, Manik and Savik Dhawan; and many friends and extended family members.

I'll miss him. I remember doing seva with him in Chicago and Fayetteville. And we stayed with Sanjay and Sonal at their place. He was such a simple, humble person freed from all worldly desires. May Babaji give enough strength to pass through this time to his family and specially to Sonal.

Sanjay - a real gem! I have zillions of memories of Sanjay - a treasure in our lives. What I loved about him was his zest to discuss, research, and serve everyone who needed help. He adored Sonal and his parents and everyone. He was one of the first ones who discovered Mary's photo in Legacy of Love, was like a gleeful child driving in the van delivering the water containers to all the spots in Fayetteville, and felt like a king when he got to serve. Boy, the 19 hr drives to Fayetteville, with him and Sonal, and others were a treat. Whether somebody needed help in researching a car, or medical care or Obama care, or their ailment or spirituality, he would be all ears, and then with his amazing attention to detail, would research it from all angles, and come back with the answers and solutions to help everyone. That was not all. If anyone was sick, he would be willing to drive to their place and drop off free medicine. Where can we get somebody like this? I am going to miss him terribly. He is now in a beautiful place, and looking down at us. One day we will meet him again. God bless his soul! My sincere condolences and heartfelt sympathies to my dearest Sonal, Sanjay's mom whom he loved very much, to his father, to Daksha and Jani, who adored him, and to Prisha who he loved and to all the members of the Kapoor and Jani family and to all of us who will miss him. God bless our lovely friend Sanjay. His memories will always be with us!!
