“ I don't even know where to being other than sorry I remember bits and pieces of him but of course Terry knew him longer. He was always friendly and making people smile and laugh a great quality to have. I have never last a child so I can't feel your pain all I can do is comfort you. His race is over and ours is still to run so run it for him and our God Jehovah and wait for the resurrection that is what many are having to do stay close to your God Jehovah we love you.Terry and Ralene Duvall

“ There are no words to express the depth of emptiness in my heart. There was not a smile brighter or a laugh more joyous than Dan's. He is now resting in the safest place possible, that of Jehovah's loving memory. Sweet, sweet boy we love you 'whole bigun bunches' as you used to say. We will all watch over and take care of your precious little girls. They will know how much you loved them. Just rest my precious one, we will take you advice and 'we won't be afraid and we will keep the faith'.So Much Love, Mom & Dad

“ My condolences in the loss of your loved one. When a loved one dies it brings much grief and sorrow. Our loving God Jehovah comforts us by means of his word the Bible. Psalm 34:18 says: Jehovah is close to the brokenhearted; He saves those who are crushed in spirit. The promise at Revelation 21:4 is very comforting. It says: And he (God) will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. May these words strengthen and encourage your family during this time of loss. Rest peacefully my friend. APalmer
