“ Dear Tim,
How do I tell you how much you meant to me? There are no words. My entire life you were always there, always loving me, no matter what, no matter where I was. Nobody on this earth loved me like you did. You were my fierce protector, my warrior. I could always count on you day or night to pray for me and talk me through anything. I just don't know what to do without you in this world. You always made me feel whole somehow. I never felt alone because I knew you were here somewhere. Our bond became even tighter after mom passed away and I know that without you walking that journey beside me I would've been so lost. Watching you become a father for the first time and the second time was like nothing I ever experienced before. You were such an amazing brother, father, grandfather, friend, son, cousin, uncle, pastor and husband. How lucky we all were to have you in our life for even one minute. My life will never be the same. I just wish I had more time so I could put my arms around you and tell you how much I love you, but God took you home on His time, not mine. I will always have an empty place in my heart that no one can fill. Being your little sister was such an honor. Thank you God for loaning us Tim for the time you did. See you soon – my forever buddy. I love you. Renee

“ A Tulsa bike racer recently said, “When we train, travel, suffer and succeed together, you are my brother. And that is not easily undone.” Tim had a soft heart in a cruel world, and that summed up the wonderful, faithful man he was. I am so blessed to have been warmly invited into his life. It was one helluva ride. Love and condolences to all.
