“ Dear Donald, Obadiah, Ezekiel and Zechariah, Mrs. Hagans and the Riley family, I was so sad to hear of the passing of Veronica. The last conversation Veronica and I had was in May of this year. She asked me when was I coming to visit her and I said when the tornado season was over and then I said I didn't know. I lived with Veronica and her sister Sharon in Toronto in the 80's. Veronica went home to N.S. one time for an Military event that she use to be in, in Halifax. I can't remember the name of it I think it was tic tac or something like that. Anyways when she came back and said she said she met this guy named Donald Hagans' and that they were getting married, She told me she was in love. I said yeah right. As you can see it truly was love at first sight. They were surely in love, 33 years of marriage and three handsome sons. I visited them a couple times in Virginia. Donald remember your brown car with the hole in the floor and were driving from Virginia to Connecticut. That was one fun trip. I didn't see or talk to Veronica that often but I really loved her and I was so sad when she left Toronto. God had a plan for her. Veronica touch so many people with her sweet and gentle spirit. She will be deeply missed. May she rest in peace. Sincerely, Anna Brooks Toronto, Canada

“ I first became friends with Veronica in a high school economics class, over shared boredom. Together, we went on many adventures, dances, clubbing, and even a trip to Bermuda. Veronica introduced me to the army reserve, in which I enlisted and met my husband of 31 years. I in turn, introduced Veronica to motorcycles. Yes, she got her motorcycle license! We would be on that motorcycle as soon as the snow melted, (hey, it was our only wheels!) Sometimes we pushed the limit, though; after one particularly cold March evening, she had to hold my hands under warm water to get the feeling back in them. Another night, we were on our way back to the militia camp (an hour and a half drive), with Veronica on the back, when she dreamt of seeing a giant army boot on the side of the road. Veronica showed her love and friendship in so many ways but none so poignantly as including me in her wedding, the only non-relative to be included. Distance may have separated us, but our friendship stood the test of time, and I loved her dearly.

“ To the Hagens and Riley Families, Words cannot express our sadness and deepest sympathy on the passing of Veronica. Our memories of Veronica were memories of kindness and gentleness. She was always soft spoken that commanded a calmness when she was around. Although she has left this physical realm, she is gone to a place where there will be no more death, sorrow nor pain. She is now resting in the arms of Jesus. To God Be the Glory! Family, take comfort in knowing that she has gone to a place where we are all striving to go and we can meet her there one day. May God continue to be with each and everyone of you during this time. “ MEMORIES OF VERONICA (RILEY) HAGANS September 9, 2015 Dear Donald, Ezekiel (Yuvia), Zechariah (Jennifer), Obadiah, Emmanuel and the Riley Family: I am so sorry that I cannot be with at this time. I would like to convey deepest sympathy on behalf of Randy and myself on the loss of dear Veronica. My heart is heavy with all of you, my extended family. I was shocked when I first heard that she had taken sick. I wondered why she hadn't texted me back because we texted often and she always answered rapidly. Recently, she was coaching me with regards to eating healthy because I have been trying to lose weight. She was happy when I told her that I had dropped a few pounds but had a long way to go. I say this because that was the kind of person she was. Always helping people, loving people and giving of her time and herself. Being raised across the road she was like a sister. I was at the Riley home as much as I was in my home. Our families were close and still are. I share some memories of Veronica. She loved clams, but at one time she didn't know how to cook them. I remember she called me up at about 10:00 one night and said that she had purchased some and wondered if I would come to her mom's and cook them. Guess what, I went and cooked them and we all had a great feast. For many years my mom who the family called, "Sparky" would send her famous peanut butter cookies and peppermint candies to her. She enjoyed them so. I was privileged to be a bridesmaid in her wedding along with her brothers and sisters. She always called me "Sis". Veronica always kept in touch, but it was more frequent in recent years. She was always there for me even though she was so far away. Veronica comforted me when my mom, two cousins and an aunt all passed in one year even though she was still grieving the loss of her own mom. I received a call on my birthday every year from her. When she was home in May, it was so great to see her. We laughed and talked and because she thought so much of mom I had given her a necklace belonging to mom. She was so proud of it, you swear that it was worth hundreds of dollars. While there is so much more that I could say, I wanted you to know that she not only touched all of your lives, but mine as well. I was blessed to have her in my life. I will miss her infectious smile and her text messages. Many are still on my phone. Thank you for sharing her with me. God has called His angel home to be with Him. The life she lived certainly speaks for itself. She was a true child of the King. Praying for you. Love you all! From: Nancy Sparks, Nova Scotia, Canada
